Coconino's top teachers are motivators, leaders, advocates and communicators. They are the key to a world-class educational system.

The Coconino Superintendent's Office is committed to supporting and improving educator quality by creating conditions for teachers to flourish. This Recognition event highlights exemplary teachers while initiating a new conversation around the foundation for a transformative educational system. If we truly want a world-class educational system, we must honor exceptional teachers.

Coconino County's teacher of the year and two Ambassadors for Excellence will become models for Coconino County's schools. Each of these teachers delivers a stimulating insightful message about issues pertinent to education in Arizona.

The Teacher of the Year

- Open to all teachers, Pre-K through 12, in a public or charter school
- Can be nominated by a student, parent, community member
- Can self-nominate
- Applications must be turned in by January 31, 2014
- Three Finalists will be notified by March 2014
- Award event at High Country Conference Center May 1, 2014, where an honorary prize will be awarded
- Will be nominated for the Arizona Teacher of the Year 2015
